

How can external stakeholders engage with the European Universities to address the European Green Deal?

The composite image includes a circular profile picture of Carole-Anne Sénit, a cartoon strip with two panels, and a Twitter profile card for @CASenit. The cartoon strip shows a character sitting at a desk with a radio. In the first panel, the character says: "...HIZO EL PAPA UN NUEVO LLAMADO A LA PAZ :!...". In the second panel, the character says: "Y LE DIÓ OCUPADO, COMO SIEMPRE, ¿NO?". The Twitter profile card for Carole-Anne Sénit (@CASenit) includes the text: "Postdoctoral researcher for @GlobalGoals_ERC & @charm_eu @UUCopernicus / Managing Editor @ESG_Journal - #SDGs #inclusiveness #justice & #labradores". It also features a location pin icon, flags for the Netherlands, France, and Spain, a link to uu.nl/staff/casenit, and the text "A rejoint Twitter en juillet 2013". A button labeled "Éditer le profil" is visible in the top right corner of the profile card area.

The Sustainable Development Goals are the global plan to end poverty & protect our planet

We call on political leaders to bring the global goals to life to build an inclusive, sustainable, and resilient future FOR ALL!

The European University Initiative as a bridge between EU policies and society

- Raise awareness of global sustainability challenges and foster ownership over policy frameworks;
- Build the democratic skills of young people;
- Accelerate transformation: we need 'all hands on deck' to ensure a just transition.

How can external stakeholders engage with CHARM-EU?

CHARM-EU

European University

- Bringing real life challenges to education (e.g. the Capstone phase in CHARM-EU);
- Including students in the activities of the organisation and the production of concrete outputs (e.g. in-company report, research informed NGO position paper);
- Mentoring students in the definition and development of their career path;
- Participating in education for students & professionals.

Thank you for your attention!
