

Privacy notice

According to Article 12 (1) of REGULATION (EU) 2016/679 OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation, GDPR)

Eötvös Loránd University hereby informs you as data subject about processing your data related to the CHARM ON Session 3: Citizen Science in Action (24 November 2025).

Who is the Data Controller?

Eötvös Loránd University

Egyetem tér 1-3.

H-1053 Budapest

Responsible department for exercising the rights and fulfilling the obligations: Rector's Cabinet CHARM-EU Office

Contact person: Dr. Ferenc Takó; Phone, email: charm-eu.office@rk.elte.hu

I. HOLDING AN ONLINE EVENT

Data are processed by the University	Your image, voice, and other personal data transmitted online, including: 1. name of the Teams profile, photo profile; or, if the camera is turned on, your image; 2. voice (in case of microphone use); 3. e-mail address of the Teams-profile you use for joining the event online; 4. surrounding environment (in case the background effects function is not used); 5. the content of the presentations shared with the audience; 6. other personal data transmitted online; Due to the technical features of MS Teams, the list of participants (name, e-mail address, and Teams profile name) is visible to all participants. Participants are not allowed to record the event, however, the organisers will create a recording which will be cut and subsequently published on the CHARM-EU spotify and website.
Purpose of processing of data	Introducing and promoting CHARM-EU (educational) principles, innovations and best practices at partner universities and engaging interested participants in trying out practical solutions and becoming part of the inter-institutional community of the CHARM-EU alliance.
Legal basis	Point e) of Article 6(1) GDPR: processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest: ELTE contributes to the social and economic development of the area by promoting the intellectual values of education and scientific research for community purposes (Article 2(5a) Act CCIV of 2011 On National Higher Education). The event is organised within the framework of CHARM-EU (CHallenge-driven, Accessible, Research-based, Mobile European University), an alliance of nine European higher education institutions including ELTE, aiming to strengthen the quality of European higher education and to increase its international competitiveness and attractiveness. You, as data subject have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning you which is based on point e) of Article 6(1). The controller shall no longer process the personal data unless the controller demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Duration of the processing	Until the end of the event, not later than 25 November 2025.
Data Processor/Joint controller	We use Microsoft Teams application. Microsoft Teams is part of Microsoft Office 365 and is based in the United States of America, but ELTE's data are stored in data centres in the EU under a contract with Microsoft.

II. TAKING PHOTOS, RECORDING VIDEO AND THEIR USE

Data are processed by the University	Your image, voice and other personal data in the photos / recording.
Purpose of processing of data	Documentation and promotion of the event, sharing best practices within the whole CHARM-EU alliance and partner institutions, fulfilling of the obligation in the funding agreement. The photos and/or the video recording will be used as follows: they will be published on the CHARM-EU alliance website (https://charm-eu.eu/) and potentially shared on Facebook (https://www.facebook.com/charmeuropeanuniversity), Instagram (https://www.instagram.com/charm.eu/) and LinkedIn (https://www.linkedin.com/school/charmeu/) pages of CHARM-EU. If you do not wish for your image and voice to appear on the recording, please keep your camera off and post your questions in the chat instead of using the microphone. Organizers will create an edited version of the sound recording before publishing it on the CHARM-EU website.
Legal basis (claim) of the processing of data	Point e) of Article 6(1) GDPR: processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest: ELTE contributes to the social and economic development of the area by promoting the intellectual values of education and scientific research for community purposes (Article 2(5a) Act CCIV of 2011 On National Higher Education). The event is organised within the framework of CHARM-EU (CHallenge-driven, Accessible, Research-based, Mobile European University), an alliance of nine European higher education institutions including ELTE, aiming to strengthen the quality of European higher education and to increase its international competitiveness and attractiveness. You, as data subject have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning you which is based on point e) of Article 6(1). The controller shall no longer process the personal data unless the controller demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
Duration of data processing	Until the webpage, article or post using the photo/recording is stored.
Data transfer	Edited voice recording are transmitted to the CHARM-EU alliance for the communication, monitoring and reporting of the CHARM-EIGHT project to the European Commission (funder).
Data Processor/Joint controller	We use Microsoft Teams application. Microsoft Teams is part of Microsoft Office 365 and is based in the United States of America, but ELTE's data are stored in data centres in the EU under a contract with Microsoft. CHARM-EU website and social media channels as follows: Website (https://charm-eu.eu/) and social media channels of CHARM-EU, including Facebook (https://www.facebook.com/charmeuropeanuniversity), Instagram (https://www.instagram.com/charm.eu/?hl=en) and LinkedIn (https://www.linkedin.com/school/charmeu/).

	Facebook, Instagram and LinkedIn is a joint controller, but we cannot guarantee that the data will not be transferred to a third country not covered by the GDPR.

APPENDIX to privacy notice

Details concerning the rights of data subjects

For the purposes of this information sheet (and of GDPR), 'data subject' shall mean a natural person who has been identified by reference to specific personal data, or who can be identified, directly or indirectly; 'personal data' means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ('data subject'); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person (Article 4 of GDPR).

Data subjects may contact the controller with regard to all issues related to the exercise of their rights under GDPR. The controller shall provide information on action taken on a request under Articles 15 to 22 to the data subject without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of the request. That period may be extended by two further months where necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. The controller shall inform the data subject of any such extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay. Where the data subject makes the request by electronic form means, the information shall be provided by electronic means where possible, unless otherwise requested by the data subject.

You can read about your rights below:

1. Transparent information, communication and modalities for the exercise of the rights of the data subject (See Article 12-14 of GDPR for more information)

The data controller shall provide the data subject with information on the circumstances of the processing, including, inter alia, which personal data of the data subject, for what purposes, on what basis and for how long will be processed; the data subject's rights in relation to the processing; the source of the data if personal data have not been obtained from the data subject; to whom he or she may address any questions or complaints regarding the processing, etc.

When requested by the data subject, the information may be provided orally, provided that the identity of the data subject is proven by other means.

2. Right of access by the data subject (See Article 15 of GDPR for more information)

The data subject may request from the controller full information about the processing and a copy of his or her personal data.

The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning him or her are being processed, and, where that is the case, access to the personal data and the following information:

- (a) the purposes of the processing;
- (b) the categories of personal data concerned;
- (c) the recipients or categories of recipient to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, in particular recipients in third countries or international organisations;
- (d) where possible, the envisaged period for which the personal data will be stored, or, if not possible, the criteria used to determine that period;
- (e) the existence of the right to request from the controller rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing of personal data concerning the data subject or to object to such processing;
- (f) the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority;
- (g) where the personal data are not collected from the data subject, any available information as to their source;
- (h) the existence of automated decision-making, including profiling, referred to in Article 22 of GDPR, meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for the data subject.

3. Right to rectification (Article 16 of GDPR)

The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning him or her. Taking into account the purposes of the processing, the data subject shall have the right to have incomplete personal data completed, including by means of providing a supplementary statement.

4. Right to erasure ('right to be forgotten') (See Article 17 of GDPR for more information)

The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller the erasure of personal data concerning him or her without undue delay and the controller shall have the obligation to erase personal data without undue delay where one of the following grounds applies:

- (a) the purpose of the processing has ceased;
- (b) the data subject withdraws consent on which the processing is based, and where there is no other legal ground for the processing;
- (c) the data subject objects to the processing of personal data which is based on a legitimate interest pursued by the controller or by a third party or is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller, and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing;
- (d) the processing is unlawful;
- (e) the personal data have to be erased in order to comply with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject;
- (f) the personal data have been collected in relation to information society services offered directly to children.

5. Right to restriction of processing (See Article 18 of GDPR for more information)

The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller restriction of processing where one of the following applies:

- (a) the data subject contests the accuracy of the personal data;
- (b) the processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data;
- (c) the controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but they are required by the data subject for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims;
- (d) the processing is based on legitimate interest pursued by the controller or by a third party or is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller, and the data subject objects to the processing.

In this case, the controller only stores the data, with the exceptions set out in the GDPR.

6. Notification obligation regarding rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing (Article 19 of GDPR)

The controller shall communicate any rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing carried out to each recipient to whom the personal data have been disclosed, unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. The controller shall inform the data subject about those recipients if the data subject requests it.

7. Right to data portability (See Article 20 of GDPR for more information)

The data subject shall have the right to receive the personal data concerning him or her, which he or she has provided to a controller, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and has the right to transmit those data to another controller without hindrance from the controller to which the personal data have been provided, where:

- (a) the processing is based on consent or on a contract; and
- (b) the processing is carried out by automated means.

In exercising the right to data portability, the data subject shall have the right to have the personal data transmitted directly from one controller to another, where technically feasible.

The exercise of this right shall be without prejudice to the right to be erased.

The right to data portability shall not apply to processing necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.

8. Right to object (See Article 21 of GDPR for more information)

The data subject shall have the right to object, on grounds relating to his or her particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning him or her which is based on legitimate interest pursued by the controller or by a third party or if the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller, including profiling¹ based on those provisions. The controller shall no longer process the personal data unless the controller demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

9. Automated individual decision-making, including profiling (See Article 22 of GDPR for more information)

The data subject shall have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning him or her or similarly significantly affects him or her.

This provision shall not apply if the decision:

- (a) is necessary for entering into, or performance of, a contract between the data subject and a data controller;
- (b) is authorised by Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject and which also lays down suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's rights and freedoms and legitimate interests; or
- (c) is based on the data subject's explicit consent.

In this case, the data controller shall implement suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's rights and freedoms and legitimate interests, at least the right to obtain human intervention on the part of the controller, to express his or her point of view and to contest the decision.

10. The right to legal remedy – alternative possibilities

10.1. Data protection officer (See Article 12 of GDPR and Article 38-39 of GDPR for more information)

Data subjects may contact the data protection officer with regard to all issues related to processing of their personal data and to the exercise of their rights under GDPR (Article 38(4) of GDPR).

If the controller does not take action on the request of the data subject, the controller shall inform the data subject without delay and at the latest within one month of receipt of the request of the reasons for not taking action and on the possibility of lodging a complaint with a supervisory authority and seeking a judicial remedy (Article 12(4) of GDPR)

10.2. Procedures of the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information (Articles 57-58 and 77 of GDPR; Sections 51/A (1), 52-54, 55 (1)-(2), 56-58, and 60-61 of Privacy Act²)

Anyone (i.e. not only the data subject) may lodge a complaint with the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information (hereinafter the Authority), in order to initiate an investigation on the grounds that a personal data breach has occurred or is imminent.

It is important that the notification is not anonymous, otherwise the Authority may reject the notification without any substantive investigation. Further grounds for refusal are set out in Section 53 of Act CXII of 2011 on the Right to Informational Self-Determination and Freedom of Information (Privacy Act).

The Authority's investigation is free of charge and the costs of the investigation are advanced and borne by the Authority. The detailed rules for the conduct of the procedure are laid down in Sections 54, 55 (1) to (2) and 56 to 58 of the Privacy Act.

To ensure that the right to the protection of personal data is enforced, the Authority shall commence an authority procedure for data protection at the application of the data subject in line with Sections 60-61 of Privacy Act.

10.3. Right to an effective judicial remedy against a controller or processor (Sections 23-24 of Privacy Act; Article 79 of GDPR)

Without prejudice to any available administrative or non-judicial remedy, including the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, each data subject has the right to an effective judicial remedy where he or she considers that his or her rights under GDPR have been infringed as a result of the processing of his or her personal data in non-compliance with GDPR.

Proceedings against a controller or a processor shall be brought before the courts of the Member State where the controller or processor has an establishment. Alternatively, such proceedings may be brought before the courts of the Member State where the data subject has his or her habitual residence, unless the controller or processor is a public authority of a Member State acting in the exercise of its public powers.

In Hungary, the data subject, according to his/her choice may bring the action before the regional court having territorial jurisdiction over his domicile or place of residence.

Possibility to claim damages and compensation:

- The controller or the processor shall be liable for compensating any damage which another person may suffer as a result of processing that infringes the provisions laid down in laws or the binding legal act of the European Union on the processing of personal data.

² Act CXII of 2011 on the Right to Informational Self-Determination and on Freedom of Information

- The controller or the processor shall be liable for paying a grievance award for the violation of personality rights that another person may suffer as a result of processing that infringes the provisions laid down in law or the binding legal act of the European Union on the processing of personal data, if the person whose personality rights had been violated has made a claim addressed to the controller or the processor for such a grievance award.
